IMMIGRANT WORKERS: A POPULATION AT HIGH RISK FOR OCCUPATIONAL INJURY AND ILLNESS

The 2008 COEH Symposium will examine current research on occupational health hazards disproportionately affecting immigrant workers, exploring health care access and policy initiatives affecting diverse populations with a focus on understanding and developing intervention strategies to reduce occupational illnesses and injuries among this growing community.

Presentations and panel discussions by:
Robin Baker
John Balmes
Rajiv Bhatia
Xochitl Castaneda
Helen Chen
Rupali Das
Sylvia Guendelman
Robert Harrison
Niklas Krause
Steven McCurdy
Meredith Minkler
Rachel Morello-Frosch
David Rempel
Marc Schenker
Rossana Segovia-Bain
Glenn Shor
Don Villarejo

More information at coeh.berkeley.edu
Register now at www.coehce.org